M= de Fonterose ne perdit rien de sa dignité et ne s'emporta pas à cette question, dont l'inconvenance s'aggravait d'un sourire

- Je ne tiens pas du tout à me marier,

- Et d'où vient cette singularité?

- Mais, dit Colette en s'asseyant de côte sur une chaise comme une écuyère sur sa monture, en face de la marquise, de ce que je me trouve bien comme je suis. Il vous a plu de choisir cette habitation, très melancolique, entre nous, un désert, une Thébaide, un endroit abropt et maussade, un nid de broussailles, bon pour des marcassins, où l'on ne voit pas un être civilisé; vous n'avez pas entendu une objection sortir de ma bouche; est-ce vrai, ma mère? Fai trop de respect pour vos décisions. Je me suis arrangée pour y vivre à ma guise et abreger le temps. Je m'y plais. J'y snis bien. Je désire y rester et surtout ne dépendre de personne, excepté de vous, être libre comme les volatiles des étangs, vagabonder comme les chevrenils, galoper dans la lande en flairant le vent comme les biches de la forêt. l'entends ne pas me donner un maître. Or, un mari, c'est un tyran. On est sous sa dépendance. Il vous mène où il vent. C'est dans le Code. La femme est obligée de suivre son mari partout où il lui plait de résider.

Ce fut au tour de la marquise d'ouvrir des yeux énormes. L'érudition de sa fille la plongeait dans une stupéfaction concevable.

- Dans le Code ? dit-elle.

- Oui. Fai lu l'article. - Vous avez lu l'article? répéta M= de Fonterose, étourdie par cette révélation.

Bjorn's Album

This is an album for a little boy named Bjorn, as requested by a friend. The theme used is to match his parents' interests. The front reflects that his father works with the wood, hence the cogs, metallic parts and the measuring tape. The back shows that his mum likes sewing, hence the real pattern used as a background which is a boy's waistcoat pattern. It has real thread and measuring tapes too.

Ethan's Album

This is an album for a little boy named Ethan, as requested by a friend. The theme used is to match his parents' origins and travelling preferences. His mum is Russian, hence the stamps from Soviet Union and the eastern part of Europe. It has a compass which actually spins (although it doesn't point the North...). The back shows another part of Europe and more stamps of the same subject.

Ana and Ignacio's Guestbook / Album

This is an album or rather a guestbook created for Ana and Ignacio's wedding, so all the people invited at the wedding could leave them a comment and wishing them well. It is themed for them: Ana is a Violinist and Ignacio is a Biologist, so a fusion of both worlds is shown: the violin lies on top of a background of a botanical book and the leaves (specially the gingko biloba, Ignacio's favourite) lie on top of a music sheet. The back is more nature fused with music. It includes a set of antique buttons and a group of butterflies

Isabel's Album - Front

This is an album for Isabel, my mum, when she turned 60. The front reflects one of her hobbies: sewing, so it has a lady's pattern, a piece of fabric, a sewing machine, real thread and antique buttons, some lace, a measuring tape and nice paper resembling fabric patterns.

Isabel's Album - Back

The back reflects many of her hobbies: playing cards (3 real cards are included), taking care of her garden (hence the middle paper with the flowers), going to the cinema and theatre (hence the tickets on the left bottom corner) and travelling. In terms of travelling she especially comes to visit us in London, so I've included the trip Barcelona – London by sewing a path connecting the two cities and a metallic airplane halfway through. There is also a spinning compass that she can turn at will.

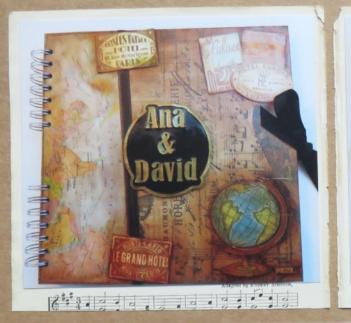

Triplets Album

This is an album for the triplets Rita, Noa and Gabriel. The theme used is to match his parents' professions. Raquel works in the theatre as a director and actress of comedies, so we have the 2 typical masks of comedy and tragedy, but since by her side there is no room for tragedy one is comedy and the other one is hilarious. Ruben the dad is a lawyer, hence the balance by his name. The triplets and the parents are shown together holding hands as a string of paper dolls. There are 3 definitions in the front: triplets, troupe and triton (they call their triplets as tritons instead). The Retonia, well, that's the fake village they invented to celebrate their wedding, and the pet are mice. The back is a theatre, with hand made courtains and seats and the date is their triplets's date of birth

Ruth's Album

This is an album for a little girl named Ruth. Her mum wanted something where she could save all memories from her daughter in different circumstances: Her anniversaries, curiosities about her and her first experiences, hence the album was divided in 3 sections, each with a tab and a picture of her and relevant backgrounds for each part. The covers reflect her parents interests and origin information. The front shows that they are from Catalunya (hence the map) and since they are very proud of their region, the name is included in a sign which represents the Catalonian flag. The background is full of butterflies, since her mum loves them. Both the parents studied Chemistry, so the back is a laboratory (more alchemist than anything) where a potion is being cooked: pure joy. And the ingredients are Love + Health + Family + Friendship + Fun = Pure Joy. The tags of the ingredients are hanging freely, so they can be turned

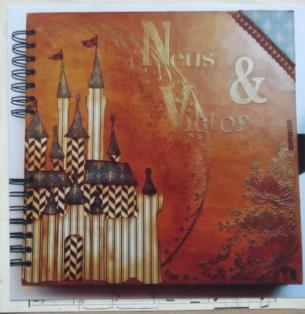

Ana and David's Album

This is an album created for Ana and David as a wedding present. I was not given particular details on them, so I went for free and added travelling theme, so they maybe can use it to save their honeymoon pictures. The present included a handmade case to include a pen, a stamper with dates, ink, glue roller and photo corners so they are ready to start scrapbooking as soon as they print their pictures. The pack also included few tags and empty postcards so the person who ordered the album from me could write them whatever they wanted to wish them well.

Neus and Victor's Album

This is an album created for Neus and Victor to celebrate their wedding day. Neus loves Disney and Victor loves Star Wars, so the album is a fusion of those two themes inside out. We have the Disney castle in the front with the typical halo which at the back turns out to complete the shape of the Death star which is the background for a galactic battle where the Millenary falcon is being followed by ships of the Empire. The inside covers show a stencil work featuring stormtroopers and Mickey Mouse silhouettes.

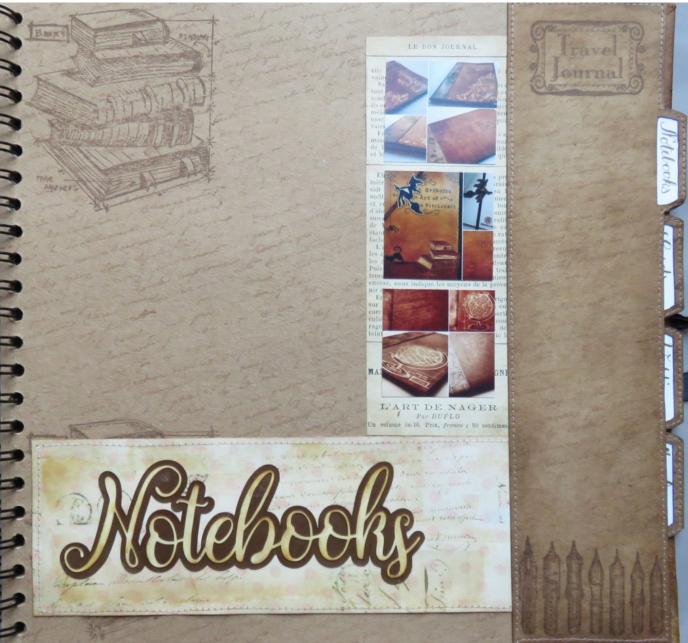

Travel album for Jana and David

Jana wanted to give David a special present and when she saw my notebooks she decided to get a small album for him as Christmas present, so they could record their trips around the world

Sawsane and Emilien wedding's pack

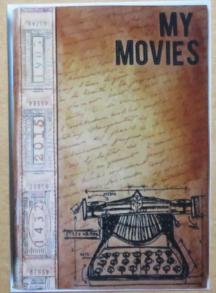

This is an album, a notebook and a postcard created for Sawsane and Emilien, as requested by my friends Nuria and Sergi. They wanted to give the card first, to congratulate them, then fill in the album with pictures of them and finally hand them both the album and the notebook (that was to be used as a guestbook) on their wedding day.

O Sections

Augener's Edition

Ana and Ignacio's Wedding

Creation of a guestbook inspired by the groom and the bride. Creation of menus with fan shape so the guests can combat the heat of August in Madrid's summer. Creation of a logo and a stamp so they can create their own tags for their wedding favours. The logo features a DNA chain which surrounds their initials joint by a treble chef (she is violinist and he is biologist). Creation of cushions to hold the rings and a bunting with their names.

Miscellanea

Isabel's mini albums

This is a series of 34 mini albums which are folded to be open as a map and each one of them is numbered and titled with a theme related to a phase on her life. The albums are stored in a box so she can browse them easily and see the one she wants to remember. Fun for hours (it kept my mum and dad happy and quiet for a whole morning and with a smile on their faces)

DYI pinboard and fake metallic padlocks

Catherine's Birthday Adventure

This is a fairy tale written by Catherine's mum and brought into a book by me. The real present for Catherine is hidden in the book. The book talks about a fairy awaking up Catherine and taking her to Disneyland. The book displays some paper landscapes and a 3D Disney castle followed by a final page where their mum and dad wish her a very happy birthday among many glittering balloons and a real trip to Disneyland.

Christmas Advent Calendars

Train and tree shape advent calendars with drawers. One drawer for each day of December for the countdown to Christmas. In case of the train, I filled one up with crafty supplies (washi tapes, stamps, inks and embelishments) so the recipient can start decorating xmas cards and start preparing the wrapping for the presents.

La Nacional menu mockups

These are some mockups prepared for the new restaurant that La Nacional is going to open in New York. The idea is to keep alive the old pictures and the members of La Nacional, which is the sole survivor of the old called little Spain in the heart of NYC. If everything goes on track, the restaurant will open doors next year and will feature some of these restaurant menus 100% handmade and donated by scrapcosy.
